There is a rumor that Murphy is seretly looking to the day when Sheeban will be dropped and he can name a man in his place.

Daniel F. Cohalan and Supreme Court Justice Gerard are the two men Morphy has in mind, but it will be some days before their candidacy is given serious consideration. These two men have been put on the black list by the Roussveit Insurgents and, peculiarly enough, It is this fact which makes their choice likely. It is pointed out that Murphy having control of a majority of the Democrats can never withdraw from the fight without some measure of vis tory, and there would be no glory for him in agreeing to a man named by the insurgents.

The first testimony offered by Mrs. Schenk's lawyers, the deposition of Alice Thomas, secretary of a detective agency in Pittsburg, was ruled out by Judge Jordan. The affidavit supported the defense's charge that the agency refused to disclose facts about the detectives employed on the Schenk case.

This was followed by Judge Jordan sustaining an objection by Prosecutor Handlan to the testimony of Dr. Reed Blatrd, the first of the eighty-seven physicians and druggists called by the defense to show Mrs. Schenk did not letter, Comptroller Prendergast made this caustic statement:

"This correspondence I regard merely as a device of the Mayor and his man Hyde to divert attention from the scandal of Hyde's absence from his office under conditions which have given rise to the most severe criticism which has been directed against a public officer in the city of New York during the present generation. They are attempting to cover this scandal by raising an issue as to a detail of the business of the Chamberlain's office.

"If Hyde had taken the trouble to consult the public records regard-
